Please contact us as early as possible!

We place special importance on good service and we would like to provide the best possible assistance before and upon your arrival in Tübingen. You can help us by registering yourself or your guest as early as possible by filling in the registration forms on our homepage:

www.uni-tuebingen.de/en/10161

and sending them to

welcomecenter@uni-tuebingen.de.

The information that you provide will help us give you advice tailored to your individual needs and will be treated confidentially.

Would you like to live in one of our guest houses during your stay at the University of Tübingen, or accommodate an international colleague there? Please be sure to register well in advance (approx. 6 months before your arrival in Tübingen) so that we can check availability and, if possible, make a reservation.

We look forward to your visit!

Welcome to Tübingen University!

International since 1477 – this is the motto of the University of Tübingen. Scientists and scholars from all over the world meet here to collaborate in research and education. Facilitating such cooperations is one of the university’s highest priorities.

The Welcome Center of Tübingen University supports international researchers with advice and assistance on matters of everyday life before and during their stay in Tübingen.

Our goal is to help international researchers at the University of Tübingen make the most of their stay. We also cooperate with various local institutions in order to help our guests and their families enjoy life in their free time.

Are you a professor or PhD student from abroad? Are you planning a postdoctoral research stay in Tübingen? Would you like to invite international scientists and scholars to your institute?

Please feel free to contact us with any questions you might have! We will be happy to assist you.
